EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An Examiner's Amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 C.F.R. 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the Issue Fee.

2. The Amendment filed on November 17, 2006 has been amended as follow:

(a) in Claim 19, line 2, the term "Recording medium" has been changed to --recording medium--.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 3, 5, 6, 9, 11-17 and 19 are allowable over prior art.

4. The following is an Examiner's statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter based on Applicant's Amendment filed on November 17, 2006:

As in claims 3, the prior art of record fails to teach or fairly suggest a method for dynamically partitioning a memory of a recording medium having the following features:

(a) the memory has a first and second block which at least a optimal recording power record for a first type of recording disk and at least a optimal recording power record for a second type of recording disk are stored respectively; predetermining a ratio of memory spaces of the first and second block; selecting a method from a first and a second partitioning method to determine the ratio of memory spaces of the first and second blocks when the ratio is not predetermined; and

(b) the first partitioning method comprises step of determining the ratio of memory spaces of the first and second blocks according to a first predetermined value when a difference between the number of the optimal recording power records for the first type of recording disk and the optimal recording power records for the second type of recording disk reaches the first predetermined value while the second partitioning method comprises step of determining the ratio of memory spaces of the first and second blocks according to a ratio of the optimal recording power records for the first type of recording disk to the optimal recording power records for the second type of recording disk when a total of the optimal recording power records reaches a second predetermined value.

The features indicated above, in combination with the other elements of the claims, are not anticipated by, nor made obvious over, the prior art of record.

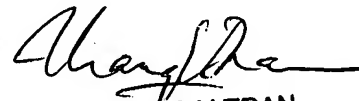

5. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the Issue Fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the Issue Fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
